NOVAE

NOVAE

A nova (plural novae) is a cataclysmic nuclear explosion in a white dwarf star. It is caused by the accretion of hydrogen on to the surface of the star, which ignites and starts nuclear fusion in a runaway manner.

A nova is the sudden brightening of a star.

Derived from elements of the universe, Novae comes to life with innovative designs which invite the mind on an adventure that will ignite any interior.

The background is a complex, abstract composition. In the upper left, a large, intricate golden mandala with a central star-like shape is surrounded by swirling, ethereal lines. A bright, glowing light source is positioned in the lower left, casting a warm, golden glow across the scene. In the lower right, there is a teal-colored mandala with a central circular motif and radiating lines. The overall color palette is dominated by deep reds, oranges, and yellows, with accents of teal and blue. The texture is highly detailed and layered, creating a sense of depth and movement.

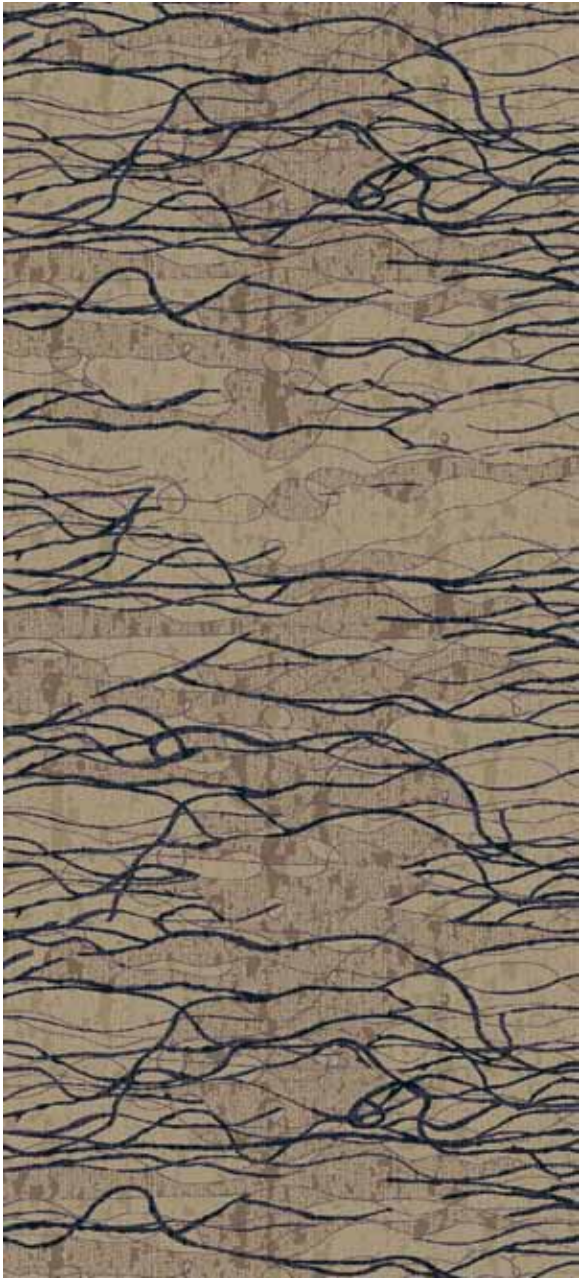

FLUX

An ethereal journey of endless possibilities.
